My dear Dr. Watson,

May I trouble you to send me a book which I think I left at the Herbarium library? It is the Catalogue of the Library Bureau supplies. I have sent to Boston for a copy, but the last edition is exhausted and it will be several months before another will be ready for distribution.

If you have found this catalogue of any use to you, or think it might be in the future, I will return it after making out an order for some supplies from it. My work goes on my pleasure, and I begin to have a little to show in the way of a catalogue. The collection of botanical books in the Agric. Dept. do not compare very favorably with the Herbarium library, yet there are more good books scattered about in the divisions than I at first suspected. I hope to find out before long just what the resources are. It would give me much pleasure to hear what the good word is at the Herbarium, and who may have come to the library in my place.

Please give my kind regards to Dr. Robinson, and to Mr. Fernald, also to Miss Kitch, if she is still with you. Very truly yours, Josephine A. Clark.

Perhaps I better add herein I left the catalogue open unfastened. It was in a paper sheet in the end of my last warrant from desk.
